

A Dollar Could Fund...

CRITICAL RESEARCH, PATIENT CARE, COMMUNITY HEALTH PROGRAMS AND PUBLIC POLICY AND ADVOCACY for more than 3.8 million breast cancer survivors, an estimated 168,000 people living with metastatic disease and the scientists, health care professionals, caregivers and members of the public who are concerned about breast cancer.

$10

- Help empower Komen's Advocacy Ambassador program through our online training platform for one day.

$30

- Provide gas for a patient to go to a local facility for treatment.
- Provide supplies for advocates who educate lawmakers on critical issues impacting the breast cancer community.

$50

- Help a person in need receive psychosocial support services, information and resources about breast cancer or clinical trials.
- Buy research supplies so scientists can work toward finding new ways to prevent, detect and/or treat breast cancer.

$100

- Provide a week's worth of groceries for a breast cancer patient.
- Provide two breast cancer patients with one month of free navigation services to access information, resources and clinical trials.

$200

- Provide one month of transcription and translation services for teleconference consultations with Helpline callers.
- Provide a screening mammogram for a low-income person in need.

$500

- Support an early career scientist for a day as they develop breakthroughs for the most aggressive and deadly breast cancers.
- Provide a treatment assistance grant to a metastatic breast cancer patient in need to help with medications, travel, housing, etc.

