

More than ever before, employees want to feel a sense of purpose in their work. Komen provides various employee engagement opportunities that let your workforce give back to the breast cancer community in a fun, meaningful way.

Susan G. Komen Makes it Easy to Get Involved!

ENGAGE

Participate with us in a local event or create your own!

- Join a Race/Walk - When you register for a Komen event, you join a passionate, unified community, working together to end breast cancer forever. Learn more about Komen's events near you.
- Commit to the 3-Day - Over the course of 3 days, walk up to 60 miles with us and feel the power, strength and love of this community. It's an experience you won't forget! Learn more about Komen's 3-Day events.
- DIY Fundraising - Start fundraising today! Every dollar makes a difference. From knitting to gaming, you can turn any activity or event into a fundraiser to support breast cancer care and research. Learn how you can combine your passions and hobbies with Komen's DIY fundraisers.

EMPOWER

Volunteer at a Komen event, deliver our mission in a new way or advocate for policies that protect patients across the country!

Learn more about volunteer opportunities.

WORKPLACE GIVING

Encourage employees to participate in workplace, payroll and volunteer giving programs where they can donate directly to Komen. Some companies even match employee donations.

EDUCATE

Komen offers various resources to easily educate employees about the importance of breast health. From toolkits and email content to podcasts and lunch-and-learn videos, we make it simple to share such life-saving information with your employees.

It's a matter of when, not if, someone in your workplace will be affected by breast cancer. Join us in our mission to save lives.
